Dear Parents,

Firstly, our amazing Year 6 children had a fantastic residential trip to Manor last week. Mrs Lambert, Mr Jones and Miss Chadwick were very impressed with the enthusiasm they demonstrated while partaking in the activities. I am looking forward to seeing their recollections of the trip in their assembly next week.

I would like to say that our fantastic children have made me feel immensely proud of them on numerous occasions during this week.

The week started off with our writer of the week assembly -where some great examples of writing were shared and celebrated. I also felt compelled to interrupt singing assembly and award everyone with a star as the sound coming from the hall was joyous, such a great feeling hearing the whole school singing together!

On Tuesday, our teaching staff shared samples of the children's writing with teachers from two other schools within our academy. All received such positive comments about the quality and presentation of the writing and were impressed with the standards we set here at Budbrooke.

Our Well-being Ambassadors took part in a training session with representatives from other schools and were a true credit to us. Superb role models!

We also have had a visit from our Vice Chair of Governors, Rob Parry. He was extremely complimentary about the behaviour of the children during lunchtime. He commented on how social our children are and how well they interact with each other. During his visit, it was great to see the librarians independently filming readings of stories using our 'green screen' and the school council engaged in a meeting discussing future events. I fully support the children in using 'their' school to develop confidence and skills beyond those of the taught curriculum.

We really have amazing children here at Budbrooke!

Have a great weekend

Well Being Ambassador Training

On Wednesday, Budbrooke Primary School hosted the first Well Being Ambassadors training event.

Children from local schools, including 9 Well Being Ambassadors from Budbrooke, attended the event where they worked to develop their leadership skills and ways to help others engage in health and well being activities.

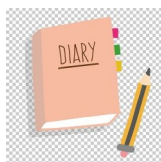

Ali Knight and Sarah Cleaver from the local school sports partnership led the training which enhanced the children's understanding of what well-being is and gave them ideas for how to inspire other young people in school to be active and healthy.

The 9 Budbrooke Well Being Ambassadors will now start organising well being activities to run for other year groups during lunch times as well as inviting pre-school to a well-being active event. They will also be supporting at area events as sports leaders, help to promote the School Games and will deliver a well being festival.

CLASS SPOTLIGHT— Cherry

Cherry class's learning has been out of this world this half term...literally. Our topic has been 'Stargazers' and seems to have set off the metaphorical rocket in many of our children's brains.

In English, we have been researching different aspects of Earth and Space ready to present as a non-chronological report.

In Science, we were investigating how different sized objects create different sized craters to represent the effects that gravity has had on the landscape of the moon.

In DT, we have continued with our rocket building; having investigated different requirements of a rocket's make up and launch, we are very nearly ready to blast off next week!

To infinity and beyond!
